

My Travels to Iceland

By

Iceland

- I traveled to Iceland while I was in the military.
- This small island country is sparsely inhabited but is full of natural wonders. The volcano that erupted in 2009-2010 disrupted flights in Europe for over a week.
- I have visited the capital of Iceland, Reykjavik. It is the northernmost world capital (64 08' N 21 56' W), most homes use geothermal energy for heat, & it has become known as “the nightlife capital of the north.”
